2001 Melridge Place | Barton Hills
Timeless Architecture with Pool, Yard,
Elevator, and Elevated Third-Floor Terrace

Built by Joseph Design Build, this five-bedroom Barton Hills home offers signature craftsmanship, thoughtful flexibility, and one of the most spacious primary closets in the JDB collection. Ideally located just minutes from Zilker Park, the Barton Creek Greenbelt, and South Lamar's dining and cultural institutions, 2001 Melridge delivers timeless architecture and refined livability in a sought-after South Austin setting.

The open main floor connects kitchen, living, and dining areas with floor-to-ceiling glass that invites in natural light and frames both sides of the property. On one side, a pool and patio create a resort-style atmosphere for relaxing or entertaining. On the other, a flat grassy yard and additional patio area provide room to play, garden, or unwind in the shade.

Custom cabinetry, integrated appliances, European oak floors, and hand-selected stone reflect the builder's design-forward sensibility and attention to detail. A guest suite and private office on the main level support flexible living, while upstairs, the expansive primary suite includes a spa-style bath and an exceptionally large walk-in closet—one of the most generous in any JDB home.

A private third-floor terrace offers elevated neighborhood views and a quiet escape above it all—perfect for morning coffee or evening wind-downs. An elevator near the mudroom and garage provides seamless access across all levels, including the top-floor terrace, adding comfort and ease to everyday living.

In addition to this residence, a neighboring property on a separately platted lot is also available from the same owner—an uncommon opportunity for expansion or a future project in one of Austin’s most desirable neighborhoods.
